

James Bryce: Prospective Parent Governor

Penryn College seems to buzz every time I visit.

To me, buzz takes a lot of work behind the scenes.

A community of people setting and exceeding their goals: students as happy and engaged as possible, and teachers as empowered as possible.

As a prospective Governor, I want to help Penryn stay accountable, transparent, and ahead of the curve. I want to celebrate, and also challenge success. How do we use success to iron out the shortcomings?

From my career to date, I firmly believe that true growth happens outside the comfort zone. I've seen this as a Royal Marine, as an entrepreneur and innovator, and as a Dad.

Are we the best we can be?

Thanks for your support.
